BESD Administrator Named to Executive Board

School District Assistant Superintendent for Business Operations was recently elected to vice president for the Arizona Association of School Business Officials.

BUCKEYE, ARIZONA – (July 26, 2017) – At the state Annual Conference for the Arizona Association of School Business Officials (AASBO) held in Tucson July 19 – 22, Buckeye Elementary School District Assistant Superintendent for Business Operations, Nate Bowler, was elected to the AASBO Executive Board. During his four-year term on the board Bowler will serve as vice president the first year, president-elect the second year, as president the third year and then immediate past-president during the four-year term.

“This is an exciting and rewarding opportunity for my professional growth,” said Bowler. “There is so much professional learning and regulation in the educational business profession and I am honored to help guide the future of this organization.”

Bowler has been a school finance professional since 2000. He has worked in a wide variety of school finance areas including large school districts as well as a consultant to small rural districts all over the state of Arizona assisting them in efficient school business operations. Bowler has a Bachelor’s Degree in Business Information Systems and a Master’s Degree in Business Administration.

The Arizona Association of School Business Officials (AASBO) is a non-profit 501c (3) professional organization providing support and professional development opportunities for individuals in the field of education who provide management and services in accounting, finance, budget, food and nutrition, technology, maintenance and facilities, pupil transportation, and other support service operations. Founded in 1954, AASBO is recognized by the educational community as the primary source for objective business and operations information, educating its diverse membership and constituency in professional best practices, and promoting the highest standards in school business administration.
